Contact: sponsor@vtcodecamp.org

The 10th annual Vermont Code Camp will be held on September 15, 2018 in Burlington, Vermont.

This full day event will bring together technology community members, students and professionals from around Vermont and beyond. A wide variety of software technologies will be represented. Session topics typically range from software development (e.g. languages, tools, practices, databases, web development, etc.) to the business of software and technology (e.g. entrepreneurship, consulting, team dynamics, etc.).

Vermont Code Camp is free event for attendees and organized entirely by community volunteers, with the help of our sponsors. Our 2017 event drew 250 attendees. We had 7 session slots throughout the day with 5 sessions running at any one time. You can see last year's schedule at https://www.vtcodecamp.org/2017/schedule.

WCAX visited during the day. Co-organizer, Rob Hale, was interviewed about the event. You can see that clip here: http://www.wcax.com/content/news/A-tech-lovers-paradise-445146003.html

While we keep our budget trim, we can't pull off VT Code Camp without the financial support of our sponsors. Sponsorship opportunities typically include:

- Feed us: sponsor breakfast, lunch or afternoon snacks
- Fund us: enable us to cover our expenses for printing and other materials
- Educate us: send books, mags, training to raffle
- Simplify our lives: send your great software to raffle
- Promote us: give us advertising space
- Entertain us: sponsor the after party for speakers and volunteers

- Platinum: $750+

- Silver: $250+
- Bronze: $100+
